A LIVE tarantula was found by T. G. Lauder in a bunch of bananas on Tuesday. The bananas had arrived by train the night before and were being unpacked on the counter of the fruit store, when Mr. Tarantula crawled out of one and began to investigate the surroundings. J. H. Picard, of Larue & Picard, returned yesterday afternoon from a trip to Peace river. He left Edmonton on May 13th and was delayed eleven days at the Landing. He reached Slave lake post on May 31st. The season was well advanced there and the crops looked well. The people had passed a good winter. Fur fairly plentiful and a good trade had been made. He left Slave lake on June 10th and reached Peace river landing on the 14th. On the 15th he crossed the river and visited St. Germain's place, the Catholic mission and Brick's settlement. The season was very dry there and the crops looked very poor, suffering from the want of rain. He returned to the crossing the same day and started for the return journey to Slave lake on the evening of June 16th. He reached Slave lake on the 18th and left by Lariviere's boat for the Landing on the morning of the 21st. Reached the Landing on the morning of June 24th and started for Edmonton in the afternoon of the same day. Four boats came together from Lesser Slave lake to the Landing. Brick Bros., D. Dejarlais, trader, and wife of Slave lake, Mrs. Macdonald and family, wife of chief factor Macdonald of Slave lake, B.B. Lariviere, trader, and Mr. Beauchamp, his clerk. Mr. Picard estimates that the traders of the party have at least $30,000 worth of fur amongst them, which will be offered for sale at Edmonton. The H. B. steamer returned to the Landing from the mouth of Peace river on June 23rd. Mr. Picard looks hearty and has made a quick and successful trip.

SCHOOL BUILDING.

The ratepayers of Edmonton school district will be asked on July 3rd to vote debentures to the amount of $5,000 for the erection of a new school house, and the purchase of a site. The present school buildings have been for some time inadequate for the needs of the district and a building has been under rental for about two years to supply the defficiency. The present school site was selected before the centre of population of the town had been fixed. Now the school is far to one side of the centre of population, and the effort to conduct a single department of the general school near the other end of the town has only increased instead of diminishing the inconvenience; for pupils from the east have to go to the west while pupils from the extreme west have to attend the east. The town is not sufficiently populous to support more than one graded school, and in order that that one should be thoroughly satisfactory and efficient it is necessary that it should be centrally located and have room enough for all the departments. What is an immediate educational necessity of the town is not less a necessity in a more indirect way. There is a large—a very large and rapidly increasing—population in Northern Alberta; which demands educational facilities of all but the higher grades. In such a large population there should be an educational centre, where the higher branches can be taught, and Edmonton should be that centre. It is a matter of material advantage to Edmonton that it should take such measures as will ensure its becoming the educational centre for Northern Alberta, and one of the first steps towards that end is the erection of a substantial, roomy and commodious school building. It is better for the town that a good business education shall be imparted here at home to its young men and women than that the money required for their education and support should be spent elsewhere. It is better for us from a business point of view that the young men and young women of the surrounding country should receive their higher education here than that the necessary expenditure should be made elsewhere. A normal school for the training of teachers is now or will very shortly be required to be held in Northern Alberta and if Edmonton is not prepared to offer the necessary accomodation and opportunity it will have to be held elsewhere. The town and the country and the interests of education have advanced far enough to warrant the erection of substantial buildings, centrally located that will meet all the present exigencies of the case. The board of trustees have arranged for the purchase of a site of ample size that certainly is not excelled for beauty of situation in this town of beautiful building sites. It is close to but not on the Main street and is near enough the centre of the town for all practical puposes. The building which it is proposed to erect is a two story and basement, four roomed brick building of handsome design. A cheaper building might be erected that would almost or altogether answer the same purpose for a time, but as the town is here to stay and as long as it is here it will need schools it is just as well to build permanently even at a slightly increased cost; and when a permanent building is erected, if it is not of good appearance there is an actual loss in satisfaction every day it stands. It is to be hoped that the ratepayers will see that their financial interests as well as the the interests of education lie in the direction of the new school building and that they will give the proposition the necessary endorsement of their votes on polling day.

A COLONIZATION POLICY.

Montreal Star: How would it do to substitute a vigorous colonization policy for the Toronto World's "idea"—a "vigorous immigration policy?" We now have "the unemployed" in our own cities and do not have to cross the Atlantic for them. Labor suffers from enforced idleness in the east, and land suffers from the lack of labor in the west. Why not permit these two kinds of suffering to cancel each other? If the amount of money which we now spend in encouraging immigration, were devoted to assisting families which are having a hard fight for it in these eastern cities, to settle with a proper equipment of some necessities, farm implements and seed on the fertile western prairies, would not the country be the gainer? Every man cannot farm, it will be objected. Certainly not; but some men would farm if they had the chance—many, indeed, would farm rather than continue a hopeless hunt for work up and down the city streets—and their removal to the prairies would lessen the pressure of competition for work here. Encouragement of immigration when it brings equipped farmers is an undiluted benefit to the country; but when it adds to the mechanics and city laborers looking for jobs, the benefit is more than problematical. But even if we import European farmers into our Northwest, we but indirectly relieve the congestion in our cities by affording a wider market for the sale of city products. But when we help a man now in Montreal to settle in Alberta, we do the double good of adding a farmer to the too sparse population of the Northwest and relieving by a man's room the pressure in Montreal.

The earnest application of such a policy would certainly tend toward solving our two gravest social problems—the growing presence of the unemployed in our cities and the tardy filling up of the Territories. It might be expected before long to give wages an upward tendency and to appreciably increase the demand for manufactured goods in the Northwest. More than that, it might easily become the most effective immigration policy possible. It would certainly tend to make life easier for the men who are now in Canada; and what could be better immigration literature than post bags full of letters going "home," telling how prosperous and happy we all are out here? A thousand paid lecturers or government reports would have no such effect. Men could then start on the crown lands without a mortgage about their necks, and they would have no long tale of an uphill journey to write to the people at home. This, too, would be spending the money of the taxpayers upon the taxpayers themselves—surely a sensible operation. The present immigration policy has always been opposed by the forces of organized labor; this one would probably have their support. Hardly a critic of it could arise from one end of the country to the other; unless it should be from among the noble pioneers who have fought their way to success in the Northwest unassisted by any sensible policy—and they could only attack it for tardiness in coming to the front.

GREAT SLAVE RIVER.

Messrs. McDonald & Kerr who came in from Great Slave river near the country of the wood buffalo last week, report that no wood buffalo were killed last winter. Several parties of Indians went out to hunt them but were unable to get near enough. The region inhabited by the wood buffalo is an open rather than a woody country, and is a large area extending westward from Great Slave river for many miles. It has wide open plains and ridges with rank vegetation, and it is there the buffaloes range rather than in the woods. The buffalo country includes Buffalo river which flows northward to Great Slave river and finally falls into Great Slave lake, and also Salt river, which flows eastward into Slave river about twenty miles below Fort Smith. Salt river is a stream large enough for navigation by inland boats which go up it 20 miles to the Salt springs to load with salt for the H. B. Company's trade in the north. Springs of salt water bubble out of the ground, and the pure salt is desposited around the springs in unlimited quantity. It is shovelled into sacks and taken away by the boats. The buffalo country has every appearance of being suitable for agriculture both in soil and climate, and is not the waste of rock and sand and muskeg that has been supposed. At Fort Smith there is a large half breed settlement where good potatoes are raised every year, and where cattle are kept successfully. The main dependence of the people for food, however, is on fish which abound at the foot of the rapids on the Great Slave river at that point. Therefore they do not apply themselves to agriculture so as to thoroughly test the capabilities of the country.

The Roman Catholic mission steamer built at Fort Smith last winter to ply on the waters of the Mackenzie is a propeller 65 feet keel and 10 feet beam. She is ten feet shorter than the H. B. steamer Wrigley and is a good boat. She is named the Alphonse. She was built by Capt. Boyd, late of Winnipeg.

It is expected that he will build another at Chipewyan next winter to run on the lower Athabasca and lower Peace rivers to connect with the Alphonse at Fort Smith. It is probable that the H. B. Co., will build a new steamer at Chipewyan next winter to replace the Grahame.

The Wrigley had not arrived from Fort Simpson on the Mackenzie when Messrs. McDonald & Ker started south. It was unlikely that she could cross Great Slave lake until about June 25th on account of ice.

FOOTBALL MATCH AT CALGARY.

Saskatchewan district vs. Calgary. This return match came off at Calgary on the 19th at 7 p. m. before a fair turnout of spectators. Calgary won the toss and elected to play with the sun at their backs. H. Edmiston kicked off for north and the forwards following up well, the game started in Calgary's ground and after a series of very stiff mauls the northern men gradually worked down to Calgary's goal line. Moore got the ball and had a shot at goal, but his foot had lost its former cunning from want of practice and he failed to score. Soon after this Edmiston got the ball and passed it to Hardisty who ran in and obtained the first try for the north. The place was taken by Cory and very neatly converted into a goal. During the rest of the first half the game still continued in Calgary's ground, the forwards getting the brunt of the battle, After the change of ends the Saskatchewan men quickly worked their way into the Calgary ground again and after some little disputing were awarded a penalty kick. Cory took the kick, and placed a very neat penalty goal to the credit of the north. Towards the end of the game Calgary began to play up better, Newbolt and Dodd doing good work forward and Morgan behind, and a penalty was awarded them in dangerous proximity to the Saskatchewan goal. Oliver took the kick but failed to score. Calgary charged in after the ball and Douglas secured a very lucky try for Calgary. Oliver again took the kick but failed to convert it. Soon after this the whistle went and the northern team left the field victorious with the substantial majority of 5 points. Scores—Saskatchewan district team 8 points. Calgary team 5 points.

Prince Albert Times: R. Stanley has been engaged during the weeks praying trees in and about the town, with the object of destroying the vermin on them, which are doing the trees much damage.

Free Press Ottawa despatch: The Conservatives are very much annoyed at Bishop Gravel for accentuating the existing school crisis. Premier Bowell and Mr. Haggart are at daggers drawn, and comment is caused by Mr. Haggart's absence from the house yesterday and to-day. Tupper is backing Bowell in a policy of immediate remedial legislation, but Haggart, Montague, Foster, Wallace and Wood are resisting to the utmost. An Ontario Conservative member told your correspondent that thirty Ontario Conservatives will vote against any remedial legislation. The situation is critical

The MacLeod Gazette reports that some snow fell there during a rain storm on June 15th. Crop prospects are good.

The Rosebery government was defeated on a motion to reduce the salary of the secretary of war by £100 on account of an alleged deficiency in the army stores and munitions of war. The motion was carried by a vote of 132 to 125.

The Prince Albert Advocate mentions a proposition that the government shall take over the land grant of the Manitoba Northwestern railway and give in exchange a bonus at the rate of $1.50 an acre for the extension of the railway to Prince Albert.

Forum: The British Empire is a political creation unparalleled in the world's history, not only by its extent and population, in both which respects it is slightly surpassed by China, but because, with an area of more than 10,000,000 square miles with 352,000,000 inhabitants it is scattered over the whole globe, it embraces all zones, from the icy wilderness of Hudson Bay to the tropical jungles of India and the mahogany forests of Honduras; there is scarcely a product which a British province does not bring forth in excellent quality. And not less various are the degrees of civilization of its inhabitants, from the Kaffirs of the Cape to the highly cultivated citizens of Toronto or Sydney. We find, with Christians of all confessions, 200,000,000 Hindus, about 70,000,000 Mohammedans and 8,000,000 Buddhists, and the Bible is printed in 130 languages and dialects represented in the empire. Yet, notwithstanding such promiscuous elements, the government with rare exceptions, maintains order, and no sign of dissolution is visible.

LACOMBE LINKS.

Big demonstration at Lacombe on July 1st. Games of all kinds, polo, football, etc., etc., Indian pony races and other amusements. Come and take it in.

Prof. Powright gives a musical concert on the evening of July 1st, which will be something extra, and lovers of music may expect a treat.

Quite a heavy hail storm passed over here yesterday, but did not do any serious damage.

The members of our Band of Hope, over 60 in number, will pic-nic with their parents and friends at Gull lake on the 10th of July. All are invited.

Wm. Burris' new store, which was just started a few days ago, is now being roofed in. It is 22x32 feet. and a story and a half.

Mr. Thompson is also roofing his building, which will be done with tar and gravel etc., instead of shingles.

Settlers still keep coming in, some by rail and others by trail.

There was a very good turnout yesterday to hear the Rev. John Fernie deliver one of his sound sermons, after which the sacrement of the Lord's Supper was dispensed to over forty members. No doubt there would have been a larger number present, but for the threatening showers.

Several of our Sunday school workers will attend the convention to be held at Red Deer on the 3rd and 4th of next month. A good programme has been prepared, and a large attendance is looked for.

METHODIST CHURCH WORK.

The following particulars in regard to the work of the Methodist church in this part of the country, which were brought before the conference held recently at Regina were given by Rev. G. W. Dean, chairman of the Edmonton district, in his sermon on Sunday last:

"The district of Calgary having 16 mission fields, extending to Swift Current, 520 miles from here eastward, and to Pincher creek on the south 340 miles away, was found to be very large. With new fields forming in Northern Alberta in addition to those distances, it was thought wise to make a division. The Edmonton district is now formed including Red Deer mission and all points north, giving in all eight mission fields in the district. In the rapid filling up of Northern Alberta these will be soon added to by the formation of new mission fields from year to year. As there is less immediate prospect of growth in the southern part of the Territory, Olds and Innisfail were attached to the Calgary district. At this latter place a camp meeting is being arranged for, commencing on the 8th of July and we are in great hope that this first application of this time honored and God honored institution, to our western country will be greatly successful. A new mission has been formed called Leduc and Clearwater and F. W. Battrick is stationed there for the coming year. Beaver creek has been separated from the Sturgeon mission and an ordained man has been stationed there who will visit Egg and Beaver lakes. Mr. Taylor who has been preaching for two years in Manitoba is stationed at Sturgeon river. As Mr. Taylor though a Canadian, can speak German quite fluently, we expect him to be doubly useful. Mr. Goodwin remains at South Edmonton for another year, while Mr. Keenleyside goes to Banff and Canmore. We are sorry to lose him but glad that we were able to send so good a supply to Banff where our work has been neglected to some extent for the past three years.

"The work in the Calgary district during the past year presents many features of great encouragement. The total present membership is 846 an increase over the preceding year of 149. There has been raised for circuit purposes, which includes all moneys raised by trustee boards, ladies aids, &c., a total of $4,869.93, over $200 of an increase over last year. For ministerial support the sum of $4,025 has been raised, while in addition to this $3,769 has been expended in the district by the missionary society to supplement the salaries of the men on the mission fields. This of course does not include the salaries paid the Indian missionaries, who belong to the Saskatchewan district. Connexional funds, those financial ties which help to bind the many fields and charges from ocean to ocean into one united church—missionary, educational and superannuation, together with the smaller funds—amounts to $1,551.05. This is a very good showing considering the circumstances of the case, the newness of the majority of the fields and the hard times, being a total of $10,446.00, and yet this is but a little over $12 per member for all purposes in connection with our church work. Glancing at the returns for the entire conference we notice an equally encouraging result of the year's work. The total membership is 15,750, an increase of 544. This does not include 533 in catechism classes. A total of connexional funds of $21,397.54, for circuit purposes $3,976.73, ministerial support $5,291.00. In the entire conference there are engaged 90 ordained ministers and 56 probationers for the ministry. In the Sunday school work several items are worthy of our notice and call forth thanksgiving to God. In the conference there are 668 preaching appointments with 249 schools, that is to say, that at not half of our preaching places are these schools, so there is a large field for future growth. This is an increase however of 33 schools over last year. There are 1,761 teachers and officers engaged in the work, 13,235 scholars, an increase of 697. Besides there are 1,047 Methodist scholars attending union schools not reported. The schools circulate 19,584 copies of our Sunday school papers. For missions they raised $1,184.09; for education they raised $30.66, first year; for superannuation they raised $30.20, first year; to aid poor schools they raised $164.10 for school purposes they raised $7,589.45. 3382 children have signed the total abstinence pledge. Coming back to our own district we find in all 17 schools with 100 officers and teachers and 876 scholars. Only 145 reported as having signed the total abstinence pledge. There is no pledge in our school or no report, owing doubtless to the excellent band of hope in which the different schools of the town are represented. 1393 copies of our Sunday school papers are circulated in the district. $323.76 was raised for school purposes; $11.80 was raised for missions; $13.50 was raised for Sunday school aid."

We confess to experiencing a feeling of tiredness on reading recent debates in Parliament, which even the eloquence of a Davin or the brilliance of a Montague fails to relieve. We are sick to death of this eternal comparison of what the opposition did or omitted to do during their tenure of office, with what has been done under the present administration. It is so long ago since the opposition were in power that their sins of omission and commission are rather ancient history to be raked up day after day ad nauseum. The acts of the Mackenzie administration are they not written in the Dominion House of Commons and elsewhere where those who are interested in antiquities of this description may find them? And are not Sir Richard Cartwright and his followers at present suffering from their sins of office by their continued exclusion from power? We could do very well with a little more statesmanship and a little less talk. In a new country like this there should be no lack of material for the politician who would be more than a mere party hack to work upon. If there is any lack of such raw material in the east The Spectator is prepared to supply all demands from the west, freight prepaid.—Moosemin Spectator.

MARTINI RIFLES.

The following letter has been received by the Edmonton rifle association in reference to securing Martini rifles for the use of the association:

Ottawa, June 14th, 1895.

Mr. Turnbull,—I regret very much that I could not arrange for Martini rifles for your association in time for you to commence the league shooting. The fact is that I met with considerable opposition in having Martinis issued to non military organizations and it is only to-day that I have had a definite promise that 10 Martini rifles would be issued to the commandant at Fort Saskatchewan for your association. I have also arranged for a supply of fresh ammunition and also a supply of the best Snider ammunition to be deposited with Major Griesbach which can be purchased by the association. I have no doubt you could still arrange to enter the league and that the secretary would give you fresh dates for the two first shots.

Yours sincerely,
Wm. P. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson, who is a son of Thos. Anderson, land agent, Edmonton, is chief engineer of marine and fisheries, Ottawa, and is lieutenant of an Ottawa battalion of volunteers. He is in command of the Canadian Bisley team this year. He has secured a similar number of Martinis for the Fort Saskatchewan association also.

VISITORS' VIEWS.

The following letter from two prominent men of Howard Kansas, who visited the Edmonton district as delegates a few weeks ago, appears in the Elk County Citizen published in the town of Howard:

Editor Citizen: Having visited the Canadian Northwest, from North Portal on the American line to Calgary on the Canadian Pacific and thence almost due north to the town of Edmonton, on the North Saskatchewan, we will say that as a country of natural resources the Canadian Great Northwest has not an equal on the American continent. Its fertile lands, immense coal fields, unsurpassed lakes, rivers, and streams, on almost every section, immense forests and extensive gold fields, all combine to make it a country that is not surpassed, if equaled, on the face of the earth. We join in saying that God never made a better country. The immense quantity of land open for settlement is so beautiful and varied, that it would be impossible to picture a piece of land for a homestead that we could not take a man there and find in a few days travel. Part timber and part prairie, with water in either a small lake, stream or spring, and cold as ice, all stocked with fish of the best varieties known to earth. There is coal in vast quantities and so pure as not to black the finest fabric. Gold in paying quantities is found in almost all the streams running into the great Saskatchewan and free for all who care to mine, paying from 75 cents per day to the man up to $7.50, according to the way in which it is worked and the industry of the individual working same.

Homesteads cost only ten dollars each with the stipulation of six months residence in each of three lyears. Crops are sure, a failure is never thought of. Wheat averages from 30 to 60 bushels to the acre, oats 50 to 100 bushels per acre and the vegetables of all kinds are unsurpassed.

Cattle and horses range out all winter and are fatter in the spring without feed than ours are after feeding corn six months on full feed, and horses get too fat to drive.

Near the American line is the ranching country, set aside by the government, extending from the American lines in Alberta district north about 150 miles; and north of this the fertile farming country begins. Seven states as large as Illinois can be carved out of the fertile belt and then lots left. Four thousand miles of railroads have just been completed and now settlers are invited.

Remember we paid our own expenses and are not puffing the country for money, but if anyone wishes to go we say they will find it all O. K. in every sense of the word.

There is game and fish in great abundance in forests and waters.

The disadvantages of the country are the same as found in all new countries, high railroad rates and long distances to markets, but these are more than offset by the sureness of crops. The winters are cold, but calm; the summers warm and moist.

The above are the solid facts as near as we could glean the same from close observation and careful inquiry of the oldest and best posted residents.

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE DAY.

The celebration of the St. Jean Baptiste society of Fort Saskatchewan on Monday last passed off very pleasantly and was a great success in every way. The Edmonton brass band with a large number of members of the St. Jean Baptiste society of Edmonton, arrived on the pic-nic ground about 9:30 a.m. and the procession was immediately formed headed by the two mounted marshalls carrying the Union Jack and French flag. Following came the band and then a large chariot drawn by four horses and representing the industries attached to farming, such as shearing a sheap, carding, spinning and knitting. Then came mounted men in uniform and were followed by members of the society from different localities. The line of march was from the picnic ground to the manse where an address was presented to His Grace Bishop Grandin. Then to the school house where high mass was sung by Rev. Father Merer assisted by Fathers Le Marchand and Dorais. The sermon of the day was delivered by Rev. Fathers Jolicoeur, of Morinville. The return was made to the grounds where a fine lunch was partaken of. His Grace Bishop Grandin spoke on different subjects in connection with the society, and was followed by Messrs. A. Prince, Dr. Wilson and Wilfrid Gariepy. Master Berube represented St. Jean Baptiste with a lamb and looked very charming in his suit of sheepskin and staff in hand. Dancing and games were indulged in during afternoon, and a very enjoyable day was spent, which will be pleasantly remembered by all.
